

These are the words of Apron Strings

These apron strings I give you from winding 'round my heart
Entwined around my little boy and now they're cut apart
I give them to you Jamie Lynn, Blake's yours to have and hold
I promise there's no strings attached so your love indeed unfolds

That place of being number one I pass to you sweet girl
Although he's special to this mom, his wife now makes life swirl
You know you got a winner in this champion "Blaker"
We feel he's chosen of like-kind, to please our great Maker

We've prayed for you this man to take, your vows till death do part
Commitment to each other speaks of how you are so smart
Now when I cut these strings away to replace this cord of love
I wrapped my heart around you both till God calls me from above

We can't o'erlook the future, Weber generations yet to come
Those little children announcing gladly, "Mommy, mommy, you're awesome!"
Jamie Lynn we do accept you into our big family.
May we seek the God of Heaven to live each day eternally.

I love you Jamie Lynn, Mom Weber
